Australia Wine Map

Australia's vast landscapes produce wines as diverse as the regions themselves. This map highlights some of the nation's most renowned areas — from the bold Shiraz of the Barossa Valley and the elegant Cabernet Sauvignon of Coonawarra, to the cool-climate Pinot Noir of Tasmania and the crisp Chardonnays of Margaret River. Together, these regions showcase the innovation, variety, and character that define Australian wine.

Just Chardonnay – the Shape-Shifter

Often imitated, rarely understood — Chardonnay is the grape world's master of disguise. From lean and mineral to rich and creamy, it wears terroir like haute couture. Whether it's flinty Chablis, sun-kissed Margaret River, or a barrel-aged beauty from Burgundy, Chardonnay adapts — but never disappears.
